MASCOT MATCHUP

Which of these animals represents the Australian Quidditch team?

Sugar Glider

Drop Bear

Yes! They picked this name because, like quidditch, drop bears don't actually exist. (Or do they?)

Nah, we made this one up.

Snitcheroo

Which of these animals represents the Australian Quidditch team?

per previous screens - please reduce and centre.

SUGAR GLIDER

Nope. (Though it'll be a great name when our team figures out how to glide on their broomsticks) this amount of text seems OK to me. can yo umake the banner a tiny bit longer, just so the text isn't so cramped?

same as sugar glider - please make this banner a tiny bit longer

Yes! They picked this because, like Quidditch, drop bears don't actually exist. (Or do they?)

SNITCHEROO

Nah, we made this one up

can this banner be a bit shorter, to match the size of the text?

Which of these colour combinations have been used to represent Australia?			At top, series of colour swatches. At bottom, a group of athletes in a classic sport-team line-up are wearing uniforms of different patterns in grey scale. When you pick a colour swatch, the corresponding athlete pops from greyscale to full colour and the information appears in a box beneath. Athletes might be kangaroos, wearing indicative shirts/blazers/caps as required? Please add permanence: once an athlete is selected, they remain in colour and their flag becomes greyscale. Tapping on them again brings their information back to the box, but does not change their colour nor the colour of their flags. SEE HELEN'S DODGY STORYBOARD/ILLUSTRATION IN FOLDER
	Green and gold	Of course! Love it or hate it, this is our official sporting colour combination.	classic kangaroos double-chevron jersey
	Red, white and blue	The colours of our national flag sometimes appear on our uniforms, usually in performance sports like synchronised swimming.	flag on a t-shirt
	Red, black and yellow	These are the colours of the Australian Aboriginal flag, and are often used by representative indigenous teams.	flag on a t-shirt
	Pink and black	Rather! Our fancy cricketers in 1880 wore these colours. Pink was a very manly colour, back then.	Cartoon version of this: https://i.ebayimg.com/images/g/3nwAAOSwd7FcM58X/s-l300.jpg
	Navy blue and gold	You'll find blue and gold on Australia's coat of arms. Our national football teams often wear this as their alternate uniform.	cartoon matilda in blue/gold strip, eg: https://cdn.newsapi.com.au/image/v1/ed6801eeaced0116d70a087d4ddf247f blue and maroon	NSW and Qld unite! Our Kangaroos wore these stripey colours when representing Australia in rugby league in 1908.	cartoon version of this: https://www.nma.gov.au/__data/assets/image/0020/556031/dm.jpg
